

About Quantum Grip

Occupational Therapist Patrick Pinkart developed Quantum Grip to enable him to play golf again after a spinal cord injury affected his hand strength. For years, as a therapist treating hand injuries and stroke survivors, he recognized that many people would benefit from this equipment.

The patented Quantum Grip glove and grip system is the solution for golfers with arthritis or other grip-strength challenges. Simple and extremely effective, it easy to use and looks like any typical golf grip and glove. Grips install on golfers' existing clubs!

"I really just wanted to play golf again. Now I can help others do that, too. It's just the best I could hope for!"
Patrick Pinkart, OT/L, owner

"Finally, I have something I can give to my customers who need help holding the club that will actually work!"

At Quantum Grip, it is our passion to bring quality of life, and the joy of golf back to players again after injury or when strength loss happens!
